Financial Advisor- Dutch desk

Our client is a major private bank located in Luxembourg, looking for Highly motivated individuals to join the existing team. In this role, you will work independently from the Luxembourg office helping clients to achieve their long-term financial goals.

What leads to success as a Financial Advisor?

Our client believes in doing business the old fashioned way, face to face. They spend time getting to know their clients, their investment needs and their objectives. Then they deliver the appropriate investments and services on an individual and personal basis. Commitment and relationship building skills are crucial to establish long-term relations.

As ideal candidate, you will:

- Work autonomously while being supported by an international financial services leader
- Build your business by identifying and cultivating prospective clients
- Help clients to determine financial and investment needs, and utilize sales skills to effectively recommend suitable financial products
- Be trained in financial products to suit a variety of objectives and risk levels
- Integrate an open-architecture team of 25p.
- Be perfectly bilingual in Dutch and French/English
- Be self manager, sales oriented and highly driven

Secure your future:

- Earn commissions, bonuses, and incentive travel based on your production
- Receive world-class financial and business development training
- Have a full-time branch office assistant who manages client service and marketing activities
- Participate in profit sharing
